

Categories for custom reports

If you have many customized reports, you can categorize them to get a better overview, and to make it easier to limit which reports to show for different administrators. Ref. resource filter for Statistics report categories.

You can create the categories you want under accordion Report Category. A Report category can be deleted only if it is not used by a custom report.

To put an existing customized report into a category, click on the edit pen on the report row and select the correct category. When you create a new custom report, you can select a category when you define name and description before you save it.
