Who ended the chat first

For chats connected to an agent we will show who ended the chat first (Hang up first). The normal situation is that the chatter disconnects first, and that the agent a bit later closes the chat dialog tab in the Agent application. If the agent tries to close a chat tab in the Agent application before the chatter has disconnected, a warning is given but the agent can close it.

If an agent sends a file (chat attachment) to the customer during the chat, this file name is shown as a text entry/link from the agent in the Chat text. Since the file was only temporarily stored, the link only works a short time after the attachment was sent.
