

Adding a Facebook Private Source

1. In the prompt above, choose “Add Facebook”
2. Choose the “Messenger” type of option, since we will be utilizing a private message channel:

3. Choosing either “Facebook” or “Messenger” will bring you to the next step, which is Authorizing against a specific Facebook Account, from which one can associate a page, from which to fetch either public or private messages. This looks like the image below:

The screenshot shows the same "Add Source Channel" dialog box. Below the title, there are two buttons: "Authorise" and "Get Pages". The "Authorise" button is highlighted.

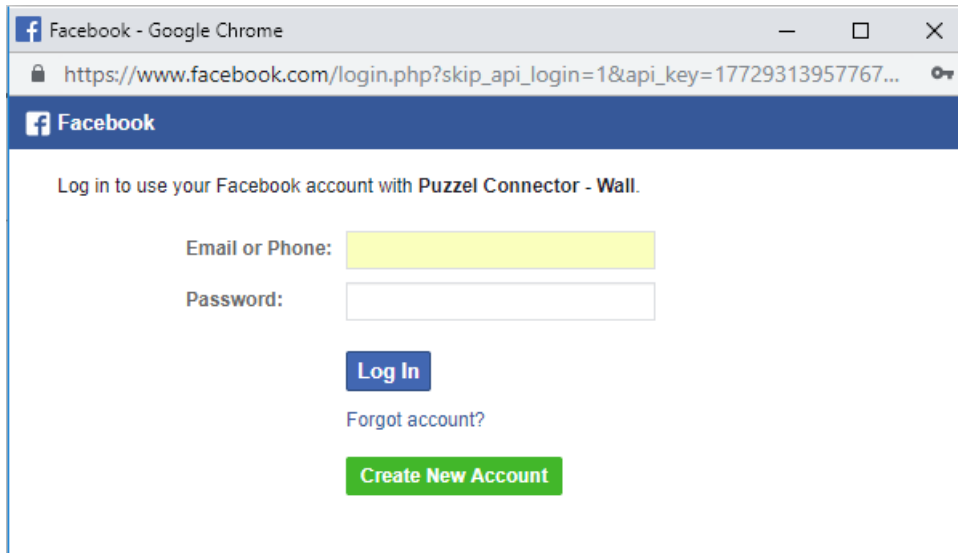

The next step is to click on the “Authorise” button, which will present one of two options:

1. If you are not logged in, you will be notified that you need to log in first, as demonstrated in the screenshot below:

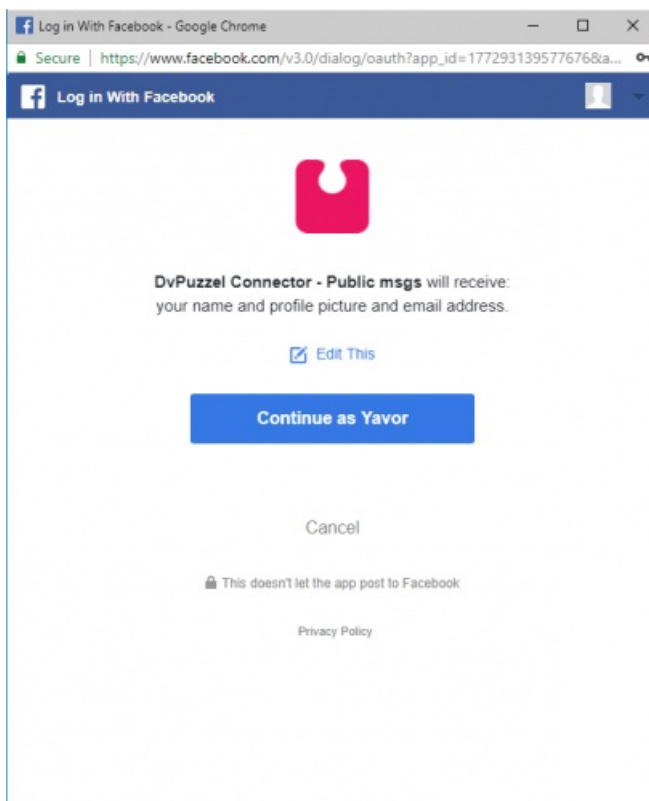

The screenshot shows the "Add Source Channel" dialog box. Below the title, there are three buttons: "Authorise", "Get Pages", and "Log In". The "Log In" button is highlighted. Below the buttons, there is a red text message: "Please log in first".

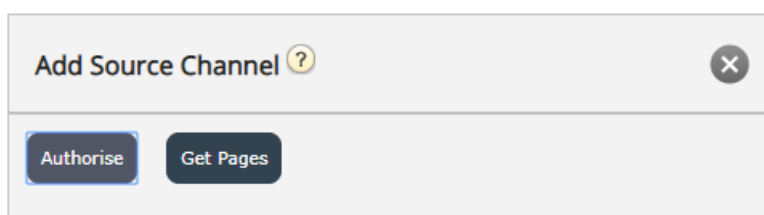

Clicking, in turn on the “Log In” button, will require that you enter your credentials:

2. If you are logged into a specific account, you would simply be required to click on the “Get Pages” button. Once you have authenticated, in case the Puzzel Connector (the API that fetches the messages) has not been authorized, you will be presented with the following confirmation:

Once the above is cleared, you can click on the “Get Pages” button, as demonstrated below:

4. Once authenticated, the connector will get access to all the pages that belong to this account:
